

FIRES SWEEP PACIFIC COAST

CUTTEN WINS $1,500,000 IN CORN "KILLING"

Had Faith in Rise of Grain Prices.

With the sale of 300,000 bushels of corn yesterday at a glucose concern at a price around $1.10, Arthur W. Cutten is credited with having completed one of the greatest "killing" in the Chicago board of trade in recent years. His profits since he took a jump of 40 cents from the recent low figure are conservatively estimated by brokers at between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

In addition to his heavy deals in corn Mr. Cutten is also reported to have cleaned up a tidy profit in wheat on the recent advances of from 10 to 25 cents a bushel in the Chicago and Winnipeg markets.

A "Dirt Farmer."

Mr. Cutten, whose farm is one of the show places in Du Page county, Ill., is referred to as a "cash grain merchant and dirt farmer" rather than a "dirt farmer" because he has not been a farmer for many years. His heavy profits were due to his faith in the prediction made by him several months ago that corn prices were bound to go higher. He followed this theory in his trading persistently, despite the fact that he was compelled to accept large losses during the month of May when he was credited with having to pay for 4,000,000 bushels of cash corn bought on contracts in May delivery.

Mr. Cutten invariably has taken the "farmers' side" of the market and contended that the market was against him. It was just a month ago he predicted corn would reach a dollar a bushel before the end of July and rainy weather conditions which have held back the corn crop have made this forecast come true even sooner.

Cleans Out His Holdings.

While he declines to discuss his deals as a rule, he publicly announced yesterday that the sale to the glucose industry practically cleaned out his holdings of corn in the July market.

"I felt all along that corn was worth more money," he said, "and that the Chicago stock, which only a little while ago was the largest in the country, would all be wanted. I have sold my grain into consumptive channels as prices moved up from 84 cents, the demand becoming more active as the price advanced. As I sold my cash corn I took July in exchange and have sold that out too on a steadily rising market."

See Higher Wheat.

"I have sold about all my cash corn, but the situation is still tight. Reports from the country are not likely to increase greatly for some time," Mr. Cutten also predicted higher prices for wheat and still holds to that position. He bases this forecast on world conditions, and on the strength of it has been one of the largest holders of futures in the Winnipeg market, where prices have been advancing faster than anywhere else recently.

Patten Also Wins.

James A. Patten also is reported to have had good luck in recent deals in corn. He took 2,000,000 bushels of corn in May when nobody else wanted it and at a time when other traders were predicting a big fall. In the last two months he has succeeded in selling all of it.

"There was a loss in oats a while back," Mr. Patten said, "but I am practically out of oats now and have been through against the predictions of other traders."

Cash corn sold for $1.13 in Chicago yesterday and July corn at $1.16. The market is within 1 cent of last year's high point, when corn sold at $1.14 in Chicago. July wheat also reached the highest of the season with $1.23 1/2 in Chicago and $1.25 in Winnipeg, a jump of 4 cents, or 1/2 cent over Chicago prices.

Although the readjustment of corn and wheat prices in all the world markets have brought a lot of money to speculators in the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia, Canada has been the biggest beneficiary because it had more wheat to sell than any of the other countries.

REPORT 35 DEAD IN WASHINGTON FOREST BLAZE

Idaho, California, and Canada Hit.

BULLETIN.

Spokane, Wash., July 14.—Thirty-five persons, including eleven children, are believed to have lost their lives in a forest fire which today swept over Wheeler's mill, six miles west of Blue Slide, in northern Pend O'Reille county, said a telephone message from Blue Slide this evening.

A third gun battle, in another part of the city, ended when James A. Williams, a colored policeman, was shot down while fighting with four Negro robbers in front of 2933 South Wabash avenue. His wounds are believed to be fatal.

Played His Own Sleuth.

One of the two citizens who decided to do his own police work was John Feldman, owner of a cleaning and dyeing establishment, whose home, at 808 Forquer street, was entered by burglars last Wednesday night. After threatening his wife, three men took $1,000 worth of jewelry and made their getaway.

A neighbor told Feldman that John Star of 3134 West 15th street was one of the robbers. The former began to do some sleuthing in his own behalf, and last night he learned that Star was to meet a friend at Milwaukee avenue and Astor street. Feldman procured a revolver and set out to keep that rendezvous himself.

As soon as Star appeared the dyer recognized him by the description furnished by the neighbor. He opened fire and the bullet struck Star's friend, Joseph Satterpape of 3008 North Kedzie avenue. Feldman shot again and missed his mark. Before he could fire a third time Sgt. Peter Kinneally seized him.

An ambulance rushed Satterpape to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where surgeons early this morning were trying to save his life. Star and Feldman are in custody.

Slain as Auto Bandit.

The other victim of a civilian's revolver was Joseph Molinari, of 505 North Ash street. Looking out from a window of his home at 1484 West 17th street, Joseph Kusper saw Molinari and two other men trying to jimmy his garage door.

Without waiting to notify the police, Kusper got his gun and rushed toward the trio. He trapped them by his one pinning his left arm to his side while another grabbed at the revolver. Kusper fired twice.

Molinari fell to the ground with a bullet in his head, and his two companions fled. Before police could take him to the hospital he was dead. Two brothers later identified him.

Believing that something else—possibly revenge—may have been the motive for the shooting, they took Kusper into custody for questioning.

Policeman Is Wounded.

Policeman Williams was shot when he interrupted four Negroes who were robbing Miss Flora Davis, 2319 South Wabash avenue, also colored. As he appeared they began shooting and he returned the fire. Nathan Paquette, 19 East 24th street, one of the robbers, fired four bullets into Williams' back and two into his side. Paquette was wounded in the abdomen by a bullet from Williams' gun. After the shooting the robbers fled.

Sergeants Patrick Lee and Frank McNamara arrested Walter Harz, 314 Bunker street, as a suspect. He admitted the robbery but denied the shooting. He gave the names of Paquette, Charles Hain, 545 East 46th street, and Clarence Mitchell, 2308 Indiana avenue, as his companions. All were arrested.

2 Play Cop, Kill One Man, Shoot Another

Two private citizens usurped the functions of the police department yesterday and did some shooting on their own account. As a result, one man is dead and another, with a bullet wound below the heart, is not expected to live.

NAB POLICEMEN TAKING BRIBE IN SPEED WAR

389 Arrests Made During Day.

Attempts by certain policemen to make use of Chief Collins' motor safety campaign for their own pecuniary profit were cut short last night when two patrolmen of the West North avenue station were trapped in the act of accepting a $10 bribe from a traffic violator to "square" his case.

The offending officers, John F. Brown and James Whelan, were placed under arrest and taken to the West North avenue station, where they were stripped of their stars.

The arrests, made at the personal direction of acting Chief Patek, came at the close of a day during which the crusade against speeders was given added impetus.

Nine hundred persons were arraigned for speed and traffic violations—so great a number that two additional Speeders' courts were opened by Chief Justice Harry Olson to handle them.

Day's Arrests 389.

Three hundred and eighty-nine more motor law violators were taken into custody during the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock last night. Of these 240 were charged with speeding, 23 for driving across street cars tracks at speeds greater than ten miles an hour, and 84 for rounding corners at more than eight miles an hour. One hundred and ninety-three of them were arrested after noon.

The west park commissioners, controlling the entire park and boulevard system on the west side, joined the campaign to cut down accidents by adopting a resolution forbidding motorbuses "hogging" the boulevards by passing each other while going in the same direction.

The effect of the campaign thus far is seen in the fact that only twelve deaths resulted from automobile accidents in the week ending yesterday morning, while the toll for the seven days previous was twenty-two.

Speeder Set Trap.

The arrest of Policemen Brown and Whelan was brought about by Officer Bloom, 3211 Warren avenue, who was arrested by them Sunday night for crossing Humboldt boulevard at North avenue without first coming to a full stop. Bloom argued with the officers and wanted to know, if their warrant was valid, he could "fix" the case without necessitating his appearance in court. He finally induced them to let him go on the promise that if they would visit his home last night he would "fix things right with them."

He said he had no money with him at the time of his arrest, he explained.

Yesterday he got to thinking things over and decided to visit the chief's office. Acting Chief Patek assigned two of his special investigators, Sergeants William Blum and Harry Donnelly, to the case. They secreted themselves in a closet in Bloom's home and were there when Brown and Whelan called last night.

"We did you a pretty good turn last night," Whelan is alleged to have said to Bloom, "so you ought to be generous with us."

Both Are Arrested.

Bloom handed Whelan two marked $10 bills. As he did so Blum and Donnelly leaped from the closet. Whelan threw the bills into the hall and started to run out the front door, but was overtaken and placed under arrest. At the station both denied having accepted a bribe. They claimed they had allowed Bloom to go free on Sunday because he was only a minor traffic violation and he had "invited them to the house for dinner." They were held in custody last night and charges probably will be filed with the trial board today.

One driver, whose car killed a man on Sunday, was held to the grand jury on a charge of automobile manslaughter. A coroner's jury held the motorist, Joseph Flynn, 27, 3941 Leighton street, criminally responsible for the death in Justice park of George Telzger, 41, of that village. Telzger was walking along a road with several other men when Flynn's car knocked him down.

Feltonman Fatally Hurt.

William Fox, 20, a south park motorcycle policeman, probably was fatally injured yesterday when, while driving his vehicle across Western avenue in Marquette road, an automobile, driven by Charles L. Reed 21, of Newman, Ill. dashed by safety signal lights and struck the motorcycle. Reed, who is in the moving picture business, was held.

One man was injured and several were shaken up when a Yellow taxi and a street car collided yesterday in front of 114 South State street. The injured man, William Connelley, 33, 3114 Wilson avenue, was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Two Women Hurt

Two Chicago women were hurt in automobile crashes in Hammond, Ind. Mrs. George Backus, 7554 South Shore boulevard, was internally injured when the car in which she was riding, collided with a popcorn wagon and overturned. Mrs. Clara Freeland, 1381 Buffalo avenue, was struck by a crossing gate through which her husband was forced to drive to avoid being struck by a Nickel Plate train.

Motorists who drive to the Hawthorne races stage races of their own on the streets leading to the track. It was said yesterday by Acting Chief of Police John E. Packer, who made a survey of speed conditions. He declared he would assign extra motorcycle men to patrol the various routes to Hawthorne.

Manlaughter charges were brought by the police against Frank (Doc) 30, 1217 Augusta street, driver of the motor truck which overturned while crowded with picnicers at Huron and Hickok streets Sunday night and caused the death of two persons.

Coroner Oscar Wolff promised a thorough investigation of the crash and directed his deputy to make special inquiry as to whether lights were placed on the pile of crushed stone lying in the center of the street and into which the truck crashed. Those killed were Frank Kankorski and Mrs. Sophie Marzec.

W. PARKS PROHIBIT HOGGING

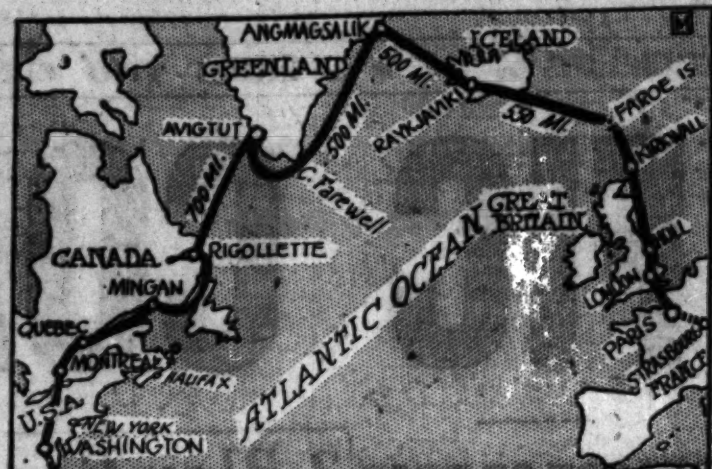

The west park board took drastic action yesterday against the practice of hogging the streets. A resolution prohibiting this practice was adopted. Commissioner Sol Westfield, who introduced the resolution, declared that operations of this sort created congestion in traffic and endangered the lives of pedestrians. Westfield cited the accident of last week in which David F. Connor, 7001 Cranford avenue, was killed, when a north bound bus crashed head on into his light coach type car at Scott street and Lake Shore drive.

Commissioner Westfield also made reference to another incident a few days ago when he said he was nearly run over by a bus, the driver of which was trying to pass another. The board, in adopting the resolution, announced that they would "back the mayor's safety campaign to the limit," and that drivers of buses who did not obey the ordinance would be "pulled from their places at the wheel and locked up in jail."

Bus Official Surprised. John Hertz, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago Motorcoach company, stated that he was much surprised when informed of the action taken by the West Park board. He stated that he felt the motor coach has the same rights as other automobiles on the streets of the city and that, considering the number of deaths resulting from automobile accidents, the record of the buses stood for itself.

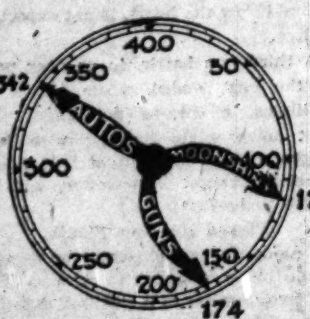

Ald. Frank J. Tomczak, chairman of the mayor's safety commission, and also manager of the claims department of the Motor Coach company, stated that he was for anything that would reduce accidents. "But," said Ald. Tomczak, "I cannot see why the buses, when loaded, should be slowed up by such action as taken by the west park board. Perhaps," he admitted, "on the more narrow streets such action would help. But then the law should apply to all motor vehicles."

Company Admits Blame. Piccards were displayed in the Chicago Motor Coach garage yesterday, referring to the accident on Lake Shore drive at Scott street, and berating the carelessness of the chauffeur who was driving the car. The company acknowledged responsibility in this accident and has issued an order forbidding the chauffeurs to attempt to pass another coach between Center street and Chicago avenue. This stretch of the drive is known to the drivers as "snake drive" on account of its curves and narrowness.

Hugo Meyer, secretary of the Illinois Automobile club, and El. Mayer, president of the North Shore Motor club, will urge the adoption of the motor bus regulation by the south park and Lincoln park boards, it was stated. Mr.

PARIS CHEERS YANKEE FLYERS ON WORLD TRIP

U. S. Planes Circle Over Arch of Triumph

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) [Copyright: 1924 By The Chicago Tribune.] PARIS, July 14.—Seven black specks in the hazy blue western sky at 5:45 o'clock this afternoon ended a day of waiting for the arrival of the American round the world flyers.

The trio of Yankee planes, accompanied by an escort of four French pursuit planes, roared along in a V-shaped battle formation, circled over Le Bourget air port and the French pilots dropped fusages signaling their arrival.

Then, without landing, the machines proceeded to Paris, circling low over the Arch of Triumph, and then over to Le Bourget and settled gracefully in a perfect landing on the smooth, sun-blasted turf. A mighty roar of cheers broke out from the 10,000 spectators, including a horde of Americans here for the Olympic games, as Lieut. Lowell Smith, in command of the expedition, taxied his machine up in front of the hangars.

Lowell Smith, in command of the expedition, taxied his machine up in front of the hangars.

Jump to London Next. The Yankee globe grinders intend to rest until Wednesday morning, and then hop to London, spend a day in London, and proceed to Hull, where they will replace their landing wheels with pontoons for the trans-Atlantic hop via Iceland, Greenland, and Labrador.

United States officials were well represented at Le Bourget, with Maj. Donald McDonald from the embassy here, Maj. Carlton Wash, air attaché of the embassy; Col. Kenyon Joyce from the London embassy; Col. Henry Cootes, aviation attaché of the Vienna embassy, and Col. Markey, who is here with Gen. Pershing, and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, on an inspection of the battlefields cemetaries.

Gen. Niessel, hero of Chemin des Dames during the war, representing the French military aviation; Gen. Deunsmill, representing the fortified region of Paris, and Laurent Eynac, minister of aviation, representing the government, officially welcomed the landing, eliciting a big cheer for his graceful compliment. The crowd surged forward round the machine, which it pulled up, and Lieut. Smith betrayed more tender solicitation for it than a mother would for a new born babe.

Run Into Storm. "We left Vienna at 1:35 this morning, landing in Strasbourg, where we refueled our tanks just before noon," Lieut. Smith said. "The morning flight was uneventful, but after leaving Strasbourg at 1:15 we ran into a storm, rain, and low clouds, which delayed us through our trying to keep together. We landed in the planes, eating sandwiches and drinking beer."

Where can I get a pair of pants? I lost all my others except these overalls," said Lieut. Smith, pointing to the grease stained khaki trousers he was wearing.

In Air 239 Hours. Washington, D. C., July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American world flyers, with their arrival in Paris today, are just sixteen days behind the schedule which was approved for the trip by the war department, although they have covered 18,000 miles in little more than 100 days, with 239 hours flying time.

Under the original schedule they would be due in Washington Aug. 10, but, although they may clip two or three days off their flying time on the remaining hop, it is not expected that they will arrive here much before Aug. 23.

LA recent dispatch to The Tribune incorrectly said the flyers were only a day behind their schedule.

REPORTS BRAZIL REBELS WITHIN 8 MILES OF SANTOS

Federals Continue Fire on Sao Paulo Positions.

(Picture on back page.)

SANTOS, Brazil, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—A wireless dispatch received here this evening from the German steamer General Belgrade, stating that the British liner Andes, which left Santos at noon today, says the situation is serious. The rebels are eight miles from the city. The wireless received here this evening states that the federal forces in Brazil are continuing their bombardment of Santos, though the shelling is not doing much damage to the city, as shells have fallen within a half mile of the American consulate, which is located in the business center of the city.

The rebel artillery is reported to have been strengthened through the capture of portions of the federal artillery sent from Santos which have been the rebels. Andes, which left Santos are reported to be safe.

Cavalry Units Battle.

SANTOS, Brazil, July 14.—(United Press.)—Federal and rebel cavalry units have clashed outside the city of Santos, according to an official announcement. The federal forces were led by Gen. Potyguara, who set out from this city to attack the rebel positions. It is believed that an important engagement is imminent. Federalists claim that they captured fifteen rebel machine guns when they engaged with the revolutionists Sunday. The prefect of Santos has taken charge of directing the provisioning of the population here, and is fixing the maximum prices of flour and milk. The city is calm, and it is officially stated that the protection of foreigners is assured.

5,000 Reported Killed.

SANTOS, Brazil, July 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fighting in the city of Santos, seat of the Brazilian insurrection, has been of the most desperate character during the last few days according to two employees of an American concern, who arrived here today from the beleaguered metropolis. They estimated that the dead among troops and civilians will reach 5,000.

The luxurious Hotel Esplanade at Santos has been turned into a hospital and is said to be crowded with the wounded. Shells from the besieging federal forces have been falling in the city. One landed on a hotel, killing eight civilians. The rebel forces defending Santos are estimated to number 34,000. The federalists at present are estimated to number 24,000, either on hand or en route.

Rebel Defense Is Strenuous.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 14.—(United Press.)—Severe fighting continues between federal forces and rebellious state troops in Sao Paulo. Strong reinforcements arrived from Santos and Rio this morning, and the federal forces are consolidating for an attack, according to messages here. The rebels, however, still apparently are in control of Sao Paulo city and are defending their positions stubbornly. It appears the government is prepared to starve out the rebels by siege tactics if necessary.

Today's official communiques say that disunion has broken out in the rebel forces and that federal troops continue their advance on the rebel strongholds from various points. Many towns in the state of Sao Paulo are organizing volunteer battalions for cooperation with the loyal forces.

UNVEIL SHERIDAN STATUE TOMORROW

LAY DOWN AN OIL BARRAGE AGAINST SKEETER HORDES

Sanitary Forces War on Des Plaines Pests.

A war to the death was begun against the mosquito pest in the Des Plaines river valley by the sanitary district yesterday when a party headed by Edward F. Moore descended with hundreds of gallons of oil and began the work of deluging the countless waterholes and inlets of the marsh lands adjoining the river.

Realizing from reports from western suburbs that the mosquito menace has appeared to be growing daily worse, President William J. Healy, of the district, recently obtained a $20,000 appropriation and launched a determined campaign. It was, in effect, the continuation of a mosquito-decimating drive begun by the district several years ago.

The favorite breeding place of the mosquito in the Des Plaines river valley, said Mr. Healy, "lies within a strip of land three miles wide and eighteen miles long, extending along the western boundary of the sanitary district from the southern limits of Western Springs, La Grange and Des Plaines.

A considerable section of the district is forest preserve. To efficiently carry on our extermination work, four districts have been established with a corps of workmen assigned to each district. An effort is made to apply oil to all water surfaces at least once every ten days, and an inspection service is maintained to detect breeding and determine the cause.

"Ditches along highways are being kept free of brush and are in some instances being deepened to prevent stagnant pools. It is the intention of the sanitary district trustees to conduct this work on a comprehensive scale in the interests of the public, comfort and health of the public."

Mr. Healy is urging village authorities to cooperate in the mosquito war by passing ordinances designed to eliminate breeding places of the insect.

STATUE TO HERO OF WINCHESTER TO BE UNVEILED

At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon artillery field pieces will begin booming a seventeen gun salute to the memory of Lieut. Gen. Philip H. Sheridan, whose famous twenty-mile ride down the Shenandoah valley turned a Union defeat into victory and gave American school children one more patriotic poem to recite.

The commanding will herald the unveiling of an equestrian statue of Gen. Sheridan on the edge of Lincoln park at Sheridan road and Belmont avenue. Thousands of motorists, to whom twenty miles is a mere trifle to travel, will pass it daily.

Miss Mary Sheridan, daughter of the general, will unveil the monument while hundreds of infantrymen and artillerymen stand at attention. Her mother will also be present for the ceremony.

The official address, a recitation of Gen. Sheridan's military life and record, is to be delivered by Maj. Gen. H. C. Hile, commanding the Sixth corps area.

The statue is the work of Gutzon Borglum, who was the sculptor of the Sheridan monument in Washington.

POLITE? YES, BUT POLICE BAR RINGLET BILLS

Seventy-seven new born curls, plus a permanent wave, adorned the head of Mrs. Ellen Cassidy when she eyed the mirror after a seven hours' session in Miss Peggy Lee's beauty parlor at 108 South State street yesterday. The bill said $41.

"That's too much," protested Mrs. Cassidy, who recently came here from Scotland. "Besides, I've got only $25." So Miss Lee locked her customer and the latter's daughter in her beauty shop and went forth to find a cop. Mrs. Cassidy allowed as how it was getting late and out at 3224 East 23d street a spouse was impatient for victuals. But they took her over to Central station, where she exhibited her curls to Lieut. Daniel Monroe and demanded to know if they were worth $41.

"Well, I could quote you the market price for a shave and haircut, but I don't know a thing about the cost of lady barbering," said the lieutenant. Then he ruled that the police department is not a collection agency and escorted the women politely to the door. Meanwhile Mrs. Cassidy's meal was two hours overdue.

MAYPOLE SEEKS ABOLISHMENT OF THROUGH STREET

Would Hit Motor Clubs Opposing Fund Use.

Abolition of through streets because of automobile clubs' opposition to the council's plan to use vehicle tax funds to safeguard the thoroughfare with signal lights and safety islands was urged before the finance committee yesterday by Ald. George Maypole (28th).

Rumors that a number of the clubs contemplated an appeal to the courts to prevent expenditures from the fund for that purpose led the committee to seek an opinion from Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch on the validity of its recent appropriation of $125,000 for the installation of lights and islands.

"Through streets were created for the convenience of motorists," declared Ald. Maypole, "and the motorists should be glad if we appropriated money, even if it is from the vehicle tax fund, for their safeguarding. These automobile clubs wanted the through streets, and they want protection, and yet they are about to do their utmost to prevent us from making them safe. The way to fix those people is to abolish the through streets."

In yesterday's meeting, the last before the summer vacation, the committee voted to recommend to the council in this afternoon's session that $100,000 be made available for the repair of fire department station houses by Fire Commissioner Joseph P. Conery. Another report will suggest the purchase of the old Pekin theater at 2700 South State street at a price not to exceed $35,000 and its alteration for police station purposes at a cost of not more than $15,000.

Ordinances providing for the elevation of the Nickel Plate railroad's tracks through Fullerton and the resultant elimination of more than a dozen grade crossings will be submitted by the track elevation committee. The work which must be completed in 1927 if the ordinance is approved by the council, includes elevation of the tracks at Cottage Grove and Ninety-fifth street, and Stony Island avenue and Ninety-fifth street.

BRAIN TUMOR CAUSES DEATH. William M. Mohr, for thirty-three years an employee of the Commonwealth Edison company, died at his home at 108 South State street, where he was struck while working on a high voltage line. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

MOVE TO PRESS PROBE OF COPS' PENSION RAID

Dever Asks Action of Councilmen Today.

A special message urging aldermanic investigation of charges that the police pension fund has been raided by politicians and lawyers, its beneficiaries rolls padded, and at least $40,000 squandered in illegal fees and payments, will be read to the city council this afternoon by Mayor Dever.

Ald. Thomas Byrne (18th) will introduce a resolution directing the police committee, which he heads, to investigate the charges. He also will certify public accountants to conduct an audit of the fund's accounts, and submit evidence of fraud or mismanagement to the grand jury for possible criminal action. Assistant State Attorney George E. Gorman pledged full cooperation to the council investigators.

Cops Are Under Fire.

Meanwhile, policemen contributors and pensioners of the fund prepared to oust their representatives on its board of trustees. The board, which includes J. Devo and Peter S. Lynch—in the coming election of trustees. Lynch was secretary of the fund for a number of years and while in that capacity drew a salary of $4,800 a year and "fees for investigations" as well as the pension to which he was entitled as a retired policeman.

"Of all things, the funds maintained for the protection of widows and orphans of men who died in the city's service as well as aged employees who have given the best years of their lives to the city should be held sacred," declared Mayor Dever, indicating that he was aware of rumors that the fund's money was being used for the firemen's and municipal employees' pension funds had been looted as well.

Mayor Is Shrewd.

"It is inconceivable that any man could be found who would betray the trust placed in him by these helpless dependents of faithful servants of the city," continued the mayor, "and if it is true that funds have been committed or the funds diverted wrongfully, the perpetrators of these outrages should be prosecuted to the limit."

James W. Breen, first assistant corporation counsel during the Thompson administration, now an assistant state's attorney, was attorney for the pension fund. During 1920, 1921 and 1922, Breen drew $3,650 a year from the fund as its attorney in addition to his $5,000 a year salary as first assistant corporation counsel.

Breen Also Target.

Payments to him from the fund were credited to "legal services" although the law provides that the corporation counsel shall be the attorney for the fund's fund.

It is charged that numerous names were added to the rolls of the fund illegally, that pensions were unwarrantedly increased and that unauthorized payments from the fund were made. Mr. Breen, it is charged, made little or no defense to lawsuits filed against the fund.

CASHIER SHOOT'S 3 BANDITS, HALTS A BANK ROBBERY

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—Three of five bandits who attempted to hold up the Citizens Security bank at Englewood, a suburb, today, were shot and wounded by C. E. Cole, cashier. The wounded men were dragged into a car by their companions and driven away. No loot was obtained. Cole, after surrendering some cash, opened fire. One bandit fell inside the bank and two more toppled off the steps.

TWO POLICEMEN ARE SUSPENDED FOR INCIVILITY

Are First Violators of Chief's 'Polite' Order.

Two policemen assigned to the Hyde Park station—Sergeant John D. Barrett and Patrolman Arthur C. Mercer—were suspended last night by Acting Chief of Police Placke as the first violators of an order issued Saturday by Chief Collins requiring the police to be courteous to citizens. Their suspension was ordered by Mayor Dever. The pair, in charges to be filed before the civil service commission this morning by Deputy Superintendent Placke, are accused of gross incivility and unprovoked brutality toward a group of Tatars reporters who sought to cause the arrest of a speed law violator last Saturday night.

Refuses to Intervene.

Sergeant Barrett, who was acting as lieutenant in charge of the Hyde Park station, refused to intervene, it is charged, when Mercer assaulted a photographer, and after severely beating him and ruining his clothes dragged the youth to a cell.

"There is no excuse for such treatment of any one by the police," declared Mayor Dever, after he had ordered Acting Chief Placke to suspend the two policemen. "Chicago's police department is proud of the braver or the chronic grouch, and as fast as such policemen are discovered they will be separated from the service."

Noted for Courtesy.

"Chicago has not only the most efficient police department in the country, but the most courteous as well. Much is said just now of the courtesy displayed by New York policemen to convention visitors. They were courteous, it is true, but they were on 'dress parade' as far as manners were concerned, while in Chicago the policeman are always courteous."

Both the mayor and Acting Superintendent Placke commented on the fact that since publication of the order stressing the necessity of no let down in the "courtesy first" attitude toward the public, the only complaints of police incivility received were those lodged against Barrett and Mercer.

BADGER TICKET OF PROGRESSIVES IS NOT LIKELY

Madison, Wis., July 14.—Indications today were that there would be no complete progressive slate of candidates for state offices in the coming campaign. Conferences were on among the candidates in an effort to determine whether the candidates should run individually or as a group.

Early reports from political leaders were that if a slate is put out it will include Governor Blaine, Henry Huber, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Theodore Dammann, Milwaukee, candidate for secretary of state. Whether State Treasurer Levitan will go on the ticket is still in doubt. It was stated by those close to the plan. Attorney General Herman L. Ekern is not likely to go on the program, it was further said. Secretary of State Zimmerman will run independently also.

MYSTERY MARKS CHARGES AGAINST TWO SCHOOL AIDS

John P. Kiely, chief clerk of the bureau of finance of the board of education, and Robert E. McNamara, engineer-custodian of the Willard school, have been suspended pending consideration of written charges. It was learned yesterday.

Both were suspended June 23 by John E. Byrnes, business manager, at the request of President Charles M. Moderwell.

At that time they were charged with conduct unbecoming an employee of the board of education and were advised that specific charges would be placed against them later.

Kiely, formerly chief clerk of the bureau of engineering, was suspended in 1922 following the indictment by the grand jury which indicted Fred Lundin and two members of the school board on charges of defrauding the board to the extent of $1,000,000. Kiely was later reinstated when new indictments were returned and he was not named.

Board members have steadfastly refused to disclose just what the charges are. It is understood, however, that they involve some financial negotiations which were without the sphere of regular board business.

The buildings and grounds committee has been designated as a trial board, and will probably set Aug. 22 for a hearing. Attorneys Michael L. Igoe and Patrick H. O'Donnell have been retained by Kiely and McNamara.

LA FOLLETTE TO CARRY WAR INTO EASTERN STATES

Plans Campaign in G. O. P. Strongholds.

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(Special.)—La Follette's plan of carrying his presidential campaign into Republican strongholds for a final fight was given concrete form tonight. He has decided to make five speeches and that New York, Ohio, and Illinois have been selected for three of them.

The Wisconsin insurgent Republican has decided not to make any extensive swing around the circle, but instead, will conduct individual pilgrimages from his home town of Madison, Wis., out into the political wilderness. One pilgrimage will be to Chicago and it is likely to be the first. Another will be to New York City, a third to Cleveland, O., and a fourth to Kansas City, Mo., each forming a separate trip. The fifth will be for La Follette's own northwest and likely will be in St. Paul, though some of his lieutenants think a city farther west would be better—and that is why the place still is indefinite.

Tour of Northwest Possible.

There still is a slight possibility that this program will be amplified with a short tour of the northwest.

May other speakers will be on tours amplifying this personal program for the independent candidate. All of the senator's speeches will come as a wind-up to his campaign—September and October.

La Follette has about eliminated one speech of his own which had been considered a certainty—a formal pronouncement on being officially notified of his nomination. The senator's chief aides here said tonight that he had instructed them to hold no notification ceremonies next Friday when his national committee meets. Such things are "political hokum," he said.

To Have Committee of Forty-eight.

The committee will enlarge its membership from the present twenty-five to forty-eight. The forty-eight will not be a member from each state, but will be chosen from various political or industrial groups.

Reports that Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme court had been decided on as La Follette's running mate are branded by the senator's aides as absolutely untrue. Brandeis is La Follette's closest friend, personally and politically, but it is pointed out that Brandeis already holds a powerful position and that it would be foolish to take a man from an advantageous position already held to take a chance on winning another for him.

Crowds Turn Out in Nebraska Cities.

Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gov. Charles Bryan tonight was ready to resume the tasks of the governorship tomorrow, following a day given over to a reception by fellow Nebraskans who welcomed him home from New York, where he was nominated the Democratic candidate for Vice President.

Laying aside partisan politics, residents of Omaha, where the governor at one time conducted a cigar store, and of Lincoln, where he served as mayor and city commissioner, gave him an enthusiastic welcome in which thousands participated.

G. O. P. Mayor Speaks. Mayor Frank Zebrun of this city, a Republican, voiced the non-partisan spirit of the occasion when, in an address, he said that the nomination of their fellow citizen had brought a great honor to Lincoln.

Mr. Bryan declined to discuss national politics, saying that he could make no statement on that subject until he had been formally notified of his nomination, adding that he would request that the formal notification take place in Lincoln.

Thousands Greet Him.

From the time Mr. Bryan stepped from the train his day was one round of congratulations. Several thousand persons were at the station to cheer him while many others who lined the flag decorated streets, joined in the welcoming home, as a parade that followed the governor's car, made its way to the executive mansion, where he was greeted by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Harnsberger of Ashland, Neb.

Gov. Bryan invited the crowds to come up on to the porch to shake hands and to greet his wife and daughter. They responded, while officers of the Nebraska national guard kept the crowd in an orderly line.

Commander Bullington Reported Rallying Well.

Champaign, Ill., July 14.—The condition of Col. J. J. Bullington, state commander of the American Legion, who was operated on here for appendicitis Sunday afternoon, is reported satisfactory at the hospital.

DISTRIBUTION OF TILDEN ESTATE MADE BY NIECE

New York, July 14.—Final distribution of the estate of Samuel J. Tilden, one time governor of New York, and Democratic candidate for President in 1876, was taken today when the ab-count of the trustees under the will of Henrietta Tilden Blatchford, a niece, was approved and filed before the New York Surrogate court.

Mr. Tilden, who died in 1886, left $100,000 in trust for Mrs. Blatchford, with the provision that she might use the income during her lifetime and dispose of the principal in her will according to her own desire. Mrs. Blatchford died in 1912 and her will, upon which the trustees accounted today, left $50,000 to each of her grandchildren, Donald M. Swan and Henry Tilden Swan III., both of whom are minors.

DROWNING VERDICT OPEN.

An open verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of John B. Taylor of the Orrington hotel, Evanston, who was drowned on Sunday when he fell from the Clark street pier in Evanston.

Bradley's Min

A story of an involved transaction centering about a check which Harold Bradley, American Bond and Mortgage Company last November revealed what is believed to be the reason for the young realtor from Chicago on June 10. Various sources the history of the transaction took this form: The bond and mortgage were interested in Bradley's apartment project at 20 Co. As evidence of his good faith as head of the Bradley Building Corporation, submitted the check for $5,000 under the understanding that it was not to be cashed until the building was completed. Through an error, however, was deposited and in return wended its way to the bridge bank, in the Wrigley where both the Bradley and the Bradley realty firm Bradley & Co., held accounts.

Enter Gentlemen's Agreement. Through an error in accounting to Vice President Minotto of the bank, the check was charged to the realty company instead of to the building corporation.

When this error was discovered, the American Bond and mortgage officials, it is said, pay a check for $5,000 with standing that he would deposit the credit of the realty business and in turn send the company another check for amount drawn on his building sales account.

Instead of carrying out the man's agreement," however charged that Bradley simply cashed it to a North Side restaurant and put the money in his pocket.

Robert Redd, the treasurer stockholder with Bradley in end of the business, told efforts made to collect back from Bradley.

Bradley Admits Transgression. "In an effort to straighten things out, I had gone to Minotto on the afternoon of the day before Bradley died. Mr. Minotto suggested that Bradley to come over to which we did. Bradley admitted he had received the check from the company and admitted he had spent the money. Then, in his engaging way, "I'll make that item good to a little later he called me at where the capitalist with who negotiating for aid in the Co project was awaiting him. Sounded weary and discouraged, he refused to come to the next day he left Chicago."

MIXUP IN CHECK CAUSES REALTOR TO DISAPPEAR

$5,000 Deal Weighs on Bradley's Mind.

A story of an involved financial transaction centering about a $5,000 check which Harold Bradley gave the American Bond and Mortgage company last November revealed yesterday what is believed to be the specific reason for the young realtor's flight from Chicago on June 27. From various sources the history of the transaction took this form:

The bond and mortgage company were interested in Bradley's $3,000,000 apartment project at 20 Cedar street. As evidence of his good faith, Bradley, as head of the Bradley Building corporation, submitted the check to the bonding concern under the understanding that it was not to be cashed. Through an error, however, the check was deposited and in regular channels wended its way to the Boulevard Bridge bank, in the Wrigley building, where both the Bradley corporation and the Bradley realty firm, Harold Bradley & Co., held accounts.

Enters Gentlemen's Agreement. Through an error in accounting, according to Vice President James Minotto of the bank, the $5,000 was charged to the realty company instead of to the building corporation account.

"When this error was discovered in April the American Bond and Mortgage company officials," it is said, "gave Bradley a check for $5,000 with the understanding that he would deposit it to the credit of the realty end of his business and in turn send the bonding company another check for a like amount drawn on his building corporation account."

Instead of carrying out this "gentleman's agreement," however, it is charged that Bradley simply took the check to a North Side national bank, cashed it and put the money in his pocket.

Robert Reid, the treasurer and sole stockholder with Bradley in the realty end of the business, told yesterday of efforts made to collect back the $5,000 from Bradley.

Bradley Admits Transaction. "In an effort to straighten the $5,000 tangle out I had gone to see Mr. Minotto on the afternoon of June 25, the day before Bradley disappeared. Mr. Minotto suggested that we get Bradley to come over to the bank, which we did. Bradley frankly admitted he had received the check from the bonding company and as frankly admitted he had spent the money."

"Then, in his engaging way, he said 'I'll make that item good tomorrow.' A little later he called me at his office, where the capitalist with whom he was negotiating for aid in the Cedar-street project was awaiting him. His voice sounded weary and discouraged. He flatly refused to come to the office. The next day he left Chicago."

Camp Point, Ill., Boy, 14, May Have Been Kidnaped. Quincy, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—Police of several cities have been enlisted to assist in locating William Franklin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Franklin of Camp Point, Ill. He was seen at Augusta in company with Roy Jones, but salesman of St. Louis. They went in the latter's car from Augusta to Macon and there all trace is lost. The probability is that a state's warrant will be issued charging Jones with kidnaping.

WOMAN JOINS DEATH ACCUSERS OF KAMMERER

Slain Wife's Sister Gave First Clew.

A new voice was added yesterday to the accusers of John Kammerer, religious fanatic, held at the Wheaton jail for the murders at Villa Park on June 27 of Otto Edel, his wife, and three children. The new accuser is Mrs. Helen Himmelberg, a sister of the murdered woman.

"That man is guilty. I am as sure of it as if I had seen him commit that terrible crime with my own eyes," declared Mrs. Himmelberg at her home, 519 South Fairfield avenue.

It was Mrs. Himmelberg, incidentally, who furnished to Sheriff John Heisterman and State's Attorney Charles Reed of DuPage county their first clew to the identity of the stranger who mysteriously disappeared from the Edel cottage the night of the murders. From descriptions of the Edel's se-centric guest, furnished by neighbors when the crime was discovered, Mrs. Himmelberg decided the man must be Kammerer, a life time friend of Edel. This suspicion was strengthened when Kammerer, following his arrest in Chicago last Saturday, was positively identified by Mrs. Otto Edel, a neighbor of the Edels. Kammerer, who in his youth studied for the priesthood but was never ordained, was formally charged with the murders yesterday, though he has so far stoutly denied his guilt.

State's Attorney Reed announced he will ask indictments of the DuPage county grand jury in October. "My sister was always afraid of that man," said Mrs. Himmelberg. "Kammerer talked and acted queerly. He seemed to be jealous of the prosperity of the Edels. I believe Mr. Edel told him he would have to get out of the house, and Kammerer, thrown into a violent rage, put them all to death."

POLITICS LIMITS DAYS FOR BUTLER AT PHILADELPHIA

Marine to Quit City Post When Leave Expires.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—[Special.]—Unable longer to withstand the pressure being brought to bear by political bosses, Mayor Kendrick will make no effort to retain Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler as director of public safety after his one year's leave of absence from the Marine Corps expires, Jan. 6, it was learned today.

The changed attitude of Mayor Kendrick and his obvious intention to submit to the pressure of the bosses, were clearly shown today in his reply to the question, Are you going to request the President to extend Gen. Butler's leave from the Marines?

Mayor Evades Question. Instead of giving a positive answer the mayor replied: "You may say that when this matter was brought to the attention of the mayor, the mayor said he would discuss that with Gen. Butler and that he does not talk to Gen. Butler through the newspapers."

Previously the mayor, who had just returned from a week end trip, indicated that he was again put on the defensive over the question of retaining Gen. Butler through the safety director's unexpected action of writing to Maj. Gen. Le Jeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, asking him where he could be assigned after his leave expires.

"I think this matter should have been brought to my attention before it was given to the newspapers," he said. "However," he continued, "I was told more than a week ago that it was coming up and I knew the newspapers would try to smoke me out."

Butler Admits Letter. General Butler who, at first, refused to deny or affirm the report that he had written to Gen. Le Jeune, later gave out a typewritten statement admitting he did write such a letter and putting his retirement directly up to the mayor.

"I want it clearly understood that I am not backing down or running away in the face of any action taken by politicians. As long as I remain director of public safety, I am going to give Philadelphia people the best I have. Nevertheless I must take care of the time when my work here is finished. Unless my leave is extended, I must expect to be ordered to a Marine Corps post."

"In order that I may make personal and family arrangements in case I am not to stay in Philadelphia, I have made this inquiry of my service chief, who will assign me to a station when I return to duty."

DIES BY GAS IN HOME. Rudolph Durst, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, was found asphyxiated in his home at 2970 Elston avenue yesterday.

GRACE, IN JAIL, MUST WAIT TO SEE BUSY MATE

Husband of Bandit's Pal Deep in Work.

While Mrs. Grace Asbury, held as accessory to the murder last Friday of Constable Ernest Miller of Frankfort, Ill., was fretting in her cell in the Will county jail at Joliet yesterday, a mild mannered, blue eyed little man who walks with a slight limp, calmly proceeded with his carpentry work on one of several new garages under construction in the village of Elmhurst.

"That's me, Henry Asbury, and I'm Grace's husband," and the blue eyes of the mild mannered little man glowed with friendliness as he straightened up from his saw and grasped the hand of his inquirer.

She Telegraphs Him.

"Know about Grace getting in trouble?" he was asked.

"Yeh, know all about it. Read it in the papers and got a telegram from her this morning."

"Well—er—she claims she wants you to come down to see her—help her out. She's unavoidably detained and can't come herself."

"Yeh, so I hear—so I hear. But what can I do? I can't do a thing for her that I know of. And I'm so rushed with work right now I can't let loose," and a suggestion of impatience crept into the serenity of the blue eyes.

"But I s'pose I'll go down that way next Saturday," he resumed. "Can't spare the time until then. I guess they're treating her all right and feeding her good, and I can't see any cause for her to fret. And I couldn't get her out anyway."

Doesn't Know Robinson.

"This fellow Robinson, who, they say, killed Miller and ran off, leaving your wife in the car—ever hear of him?"

"Never in my life. It's all news to me," Asbury said. "You see Grace and I were married four years ago. For three years all went well. We quarreled only once, but made that up. But a year ago she got restless, or something, and before I knew what she was about she just walked off and left me for no reason at all."

"Next I hear of her they've got her in jail."

And Mr. Asbury, with a polite nod, returned to his work.

Trace Bandit Auto.

The automobile figuring in the murder was yesterday identified as having been stolen on April 27 from R. K. Edwardson, of Niles, Mich. Deputy Sheriff Carl Rosenbaum is in Niles trying to get trace of Robinson.

COURTEOUS COPS.

Chief Collins has instructed the Chicago police to their attitude towards the public is expected to be one of courtesy. The New York police made a hit with Mayor Dever. The London police are thoroughly disciplined in this respect but they have a public also thoroughly disciplined.

Collins tells his men that they are not expected to bawl out the citizen who has violated a regulation. If it is important enough for an arrest, the arrest should be made. If it is not, the policeman is not to be the offender. It may be irritating for a policeman to meet incidents after incidents which convince him that the populace is trying to put something over on him, but we believe that the morale of the force and the attitude of the citizens towards it will be improved by the enforcement of the chief's instructions.

Bawling out and beating up the citizens is not a part of the authorized police job. It does not enhance the policeman's real authority. That begins with the policeman's respect for his own job and his obligations to the public. A confirmed hostility between the force and the people is a reversal of purpose.

MEXICO AND HER GENERALS.

A rather naive article entitled "The Inside Facts of the Mexican Revolution" is contributed to Current History by the veteran correspondent and publicist, E. J. Dillon, whose reports and comment upon Russian and Balkan affairs informed and entertained in that dim, distant epoch "before the war." Without malice, it may be said that in receiving Dr. Dillon's spirited judgments on the persons of the Mexican drama, it is well to remember that he has an appreciation of celebrities who distinguish him by their confidence and their naturally tend to overcolor his opinion of them and their adversaries. That De la Huerta is as despicable and Obregon as noble as he would have us believe, we may harbor some doubt, but the interest for Americans on Dr. Dillon's "inside facts" is that they are an old story. The story of the Mexican republic has been a succession of tragicomedies like the Russian revolution and the characters portrayed by Dr. Dillon are as stereotyped as those in Punch and Judy. If Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan had not proceeded in blisful ignorance of these Mexican realities they might not have written the most futile chapter in the record of our Mexican relations.

De la Huerta, in Dr. Dillon's review, is a weakling, vain and incompetent, whose reputation for public service was the result of the influence of Calles and Obregon. But down with pride and ambition, he fell into the influence of less admirable characters, Mexican reactionaries, and oil men, merchants, wealthy landowners, and Europeans who have retained their nationalities. With this following, he proceeded to plot against Obregon and his former friends to supplant his regime and undo the happy results achieved by them for the Mexican people.

Retaining some reserve as to the complete balance and justice of this verdict, let us take up Dr. Dillon's estimate of De la Huerta's co-conspirators: Rafael Zubaran Capmany, "a sharp lawyer from Campeche, endowed with a degree of personal magnetism hardly inferior to that of the Russian Rasputin," with a winsome smile, many eyes, and a cool, prudent and calculating temper; and Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez, brilliant cavalry officer, in strategy below the average, tactful but avowing loyalty to Obregon while he prepared for the uprising.

Gen. Estrada, self-made soldier, "from the ethical and psychological standpoint, he may be described as one of the primordials." Betrayed Obregon and Obregon's nationality with unflinching loyalty, he plotted treachery even while Obregon was warmly defending his character.

Gen. Salvador Olave, dictator of Yucatan, hated by his officers, men, and misgoverned subjects. An ancient enemy of Obregon, whom he had plotted to assassinate during the Madero revolution.

Gen. Mayotte, trusted friend of Obregon. When the president started for the front Mayotte was his right arm, embracing him, and when he was gone he drove to the war department, collected ammunition and money, and started for Oaxaca to head the uprising there.

Gen. Figueroa, who started a revolt on his own account prematurely and was pardoned, but rose again to take part in the De la Huerta revolt.

Gen. Higinio Arce, a participant in every revolution in Mexico for sixty years, "a hardened old slinger, who resembled a resuscitated corpse with his leathery face and brightly gleaming eyes, but who could sit in the middle all day without betraying signs of fatigue and who revelled in dynamiting trains, looting, and killing, in all of which activities he showed a brutal and almost boundless ferocity."

Vicente Blasco Ibañez said the chief curse of Mexico was the generals. They are a crop that springs perennially from the soil of Mexican life, as from some ancient sowing of dragons' teeth, never renewed. Patriots Mexico has had and has, but they are almost lost in the thick of this savagery. Is it the Indian blood whose immortal code made treachery a virtue, the fierce, remorseless, cruel, aboriginal strain?

Whatever the explanation, Mexico's history is one long tragic drama of betrayal and ruthless treachery among her leaders. Here and there a patriot shines out, a man of force willing and able to build for the nation; but the plague of the generals has swept them away. Mexico does not produce enough loyalty to build with. The character of her public men, generation after generation, has been her curse. To shut our eyes to this is to make helpful relations, tolerable relations, with Mexico impossible. It is to meddle and make mischief.

We hope Dr. Dillon's estimate of Obregon and his henchmen of Calles are sound. Time will tell. Meanwhile it is to be hoped they can maintain themselves long enough to demonstrate their capacity for responsible government or lack of it, and consistent discouragement by Washington of revolutionary enterprises is a policy which should be helpful. But if Mexico cannot suppress her generals it will be necessary sooner or later to do it for her.

We hope Dr. Dillon's estimate of Obregon and his henchmen of Calles are sound. Time will tell. Meanwhile it is to be hoped they can maintain themselves long enough to demonstrate their capacity for responsible government or lack of it, and consistent discouragement by Washington of revolutionary enterprises is a policy which should be helpful. But if Mexico cannot suppress her generals it will be necessary sooner or later to do it for her.

HEALTH EXAMINATIONS.

SEVERAL years ago a New Zealand physician told American audiences that one explanation for the very high health rate among babies in his country was the fact that they had made care of the health of babies the fashion. They began by interesting the lay government, and she had introduced the subject by the plan of the society. The society came applied it in their own families, and they got their interest recorded in the society column. Next, the school took it up, and then followed the rank and file. Finally the contagion spread to the great unwashed.

A similar technique is being employed for introducing periodic health examinations. Samuel Vanclain, president of the Baldwin locomotive works, is quoted as saying, "I pay my physician so much a year for keeping me in good health that I don't want to stop. I don't have to worry. I let him do that. But I am careful to obey his orders. He examines me physically at frequent intervals, and he tells me what I must do to be healthy. This statement is used as a text by William Butterworth, president of Deere & Co. of Moline and also president of the Illinois Association for the Promotion of Periodic Health Examinations.

Mr. Butterworth thinks that one of the reasons there are so many healthy and strong elderly men among our manufacturers, bankers, and merchants is because so many of them are having periodic physical examinations and are advised by the physician to eat, drink, and sleep as they should. He has had these examinations show them.

Mr. Butterworth stresses the fact that these men are capable and healthy as well as elderly. He calls attention to the fact that these men are not only healthy but also wealthy. MACDONALD TO URGE FRANCE TO EVACUATE RUHR

Tells Parliament Plans for Allied Parley.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Specialist: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, July 14.—Although the interallied conference on the Dawes plan begins in London on Wednesday, arrangements have not yet been completed and it is not known to the British how many delegates and experts will be present. It is stated the total will be somewhere around 150. No decision has been taken yet about the representation of the British dominions, and that will probably be decided at the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

It is stated here that in spite of the French efforts to extend the scope of the conference it will be confined to a discussion of the ways and means of putting the Dawes report in operation, and if such matters as the allied debts must be discussed the British will insist on another conference.

Owen D. Young will have no official position, but it is evident that he will take an important consultative part in the conference.

No Public Meetings.

Prime Minister MacDonald, heckled today in the house of commons about publicity concerning the conference, said that would have to be decided by the allies when the conference met. It is certain, however, that there will be no public meetings, and any publicity will be confined to official statements by the various delegations. Replying to a question if the conference was arranged on a basis of open diplomacy, Mr. MacDonald replied:

"Certainly, but not open diplomacy of the parrot cry variety."
The debate on the foreign office vote in the house of commons, which was postponed from Tuesday last because of Mr. MacDonald's rush to Paris to save Premier Herriot, and which was expected to prove a fierce attack on the government by both the Liberals and Tories, fizzled out tonight. Both parties evidently feared an attack on the government on the eve of the London conference would be unpopular.

Mr. Asquith and Stanley Baldwin, who led the debate, both took the friendliest possible tone.

Congratulate MacDonald.

Mr. Asquith congratulated Mr. MacDonald on having gotten away from the former method of railway station and tea table talks tempered by big communications to the press and arranged a responsible conference, for the success of which every one had the best wishes.

Mr. Asquith asked if the American government was favorable to an American member on the reparations commission or as arbitrator. He also pointed out that under the British interpretation of the Versailles treaty the evacuation of the occupied regions was due next January, but according to Mr. MacDonald the time had not yet begun to run and it was necessary to

Told me this great secret
By Edna Wallace Hopper

Lucie Lanterne, the famous Parisian beauty, taught me how to clean my skin. Other women used soap and water. They got harshness and roughness, but never a clean skin. Others used creams which grew hair on the face. Lucie Lanterne, advised by great scientists, gave me a better method. It helped to give me a beauty which has made me world-famous. It has kept my girlish beauty to my grand old age.

Leading beauty experts the world over now employ and advise it. But they class it as a sort of legerdemain, and charge high prices for it. I am placing this formula at your call. I call it Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth. All druggists and toilet counters now supply it, and the price is only 75c.

My Facial Youth contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. It simply cleans to the depths, then departs. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter come out with it. Wash as well as you will, and my Facial Youth will remove more grime than any other method you know. A clean skin is the first essential of beauty. This is the only way I know to a really clean skin, and I have for advisers the best experts in the world. Let me send you a sample with my Beauty Book. It may change your whole career. Just send the coupon—now.

GERMAN POLICE RAID 'COKE' DENS; ARREST MORONS

Find Big Increase in Use of Drugs.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, July 14.—While Haarmann, the vampire murderer of Hanover, today confessed his fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth murders, the German police in the biggest cities began a nation-wide roundup of morons, degenerate men and women, cocaine and heroin users, and other undesirable, who have increased to many times the pre-war number.

Drug joints and cabarets, patronized almost exclusively by degenerates, were searched last night in Berlin and many were closed. Scores of suspects were taken to jail.

One weekly newspaper is devoted almost entirely to advertisements for morons and degenerates, who have been protected until now by great professors and psychoanalysts, who claimed these men are unfortunate who must be protected.

First Big Campaign.
It is the first big campaign against the unnatural conditions in Germany, the world war being blamed for the lowering of morale and morals. Before the war degenerate practices flourished, but it is claimed the police refrained from acting because many of the perpetrators were supposed to be connected with members of the nobility.

DEVER TO LOP
$250,000 FROM
$750,000 BILL

A veto message to be submitted to the council this afternoon eliminating items amounting to $250,000 from the $750,000 supplemental appropriation bill recently approved by the aldermen, has been determined upon by Mayor Dever, it became known yesterday.

Beyond intimating that he would reduce the allowance made for maintenance of privately owned automobiles used in the city service from an average of $90 a month to about $45 a month and eliminate an appropriation of $40,000 for the removal of the abutments of the old Rush street bridge, the mayor would not discuss the message.

"I am trying to keep my word to the people," declared the mayor, "that I would not permit money which we have not got to be spent. It is a hard job to ruthlessly strike out contemplated expenditures which, it is apparent, would result in a large saving eventually."

Next excursion leaves Chicago 7 p. m. Standard time, Friday, July 18th, arriving Chicago 7:15 a. m. Standard time, Monday, July 21st. Reservations should be in not later than Wednesday noon, July 16th.

JOLIET CHURCH BOMBING SCORED BY METHODISTS

Apprehend Bootleggers, Des Plaines Demand.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Methodist preachers and church members were roused to a fighting pitch yesterday over the report of the recent bombing of the Ottawa Street Methodist Episcopal church of Joliet which came before the preachers' session at the Des Plaines camp meeting. The forty-three ministers present stood and applauded resolutions which called the bombing "the dastardly work of bootleggers and violators of decency and order." The audience was then invited to show its approval of the resolution. It did so unanimously.

In his afternoon sermon Bishop E. L. Waldorf of Kansas City made the resolutions against the bombing an occasion for an attack on the perpetrators of the outrage.

Bishop Scores Vandals. "I am back of these resolutions heart and soul," said Bishop Waldorf. "I want to say to those law violators in Joliet that if they want to write prohibition into the constitution of the United States so that it can never be taken out there is no better way than to make a martyr of a man who is simply doing his duty in the cause of righteousness. The blood of the martyr has always been the seed of the church."

"A man is a good deal of a fool who tries to clean an idea out of another man's head. The way to get an idea out of a man is to get a better idea into his head and a better ideal into his heart."

Must Make Democracy Safe. "Any man who believes in making the world safe for democracy ought to make democracy safe for any man who is doing what he believes to be right. The church has always led the work of reform. The Methodist church split on the slavery question twenty-five years before the civil war."

The resolutions hurried defiance at the bombers, charged them with attempting the life of the Rev. Henry E. Rempel, pastor of the Ottawa street church, and active in the crusade against bootleggers in Joliet and Will county, pledged financial aid in the rebuilding of the church, and called on Joliet officials to bring the criminals to justice.

To Raise $50,000. At the annual meeting of the Camp Meeting association a plan to raise $50,000 for better equipment and meeting present obligations was approved. George F. Ellis was made general chairman of the campaign committee. Thomas Stanek, the Rev. M. N. Engle, Oak Park, and Mr. Ellis were elected trustees.

A letter of approval from Bishop Thomas Nicholson was read in which he urged the need of a swimming pool and other facilities for young people's activities. The Rev. H. Clifford Northcott, chairman of the camp meeting program committee, said the camp meeting auditorium might be taken over as a dance hall if the Camp Meeting association "let go of it."

Mrs. Herbert Vogt Tells of Her Husband's Suicide. Mrs. Herbert Vogt of 810 Reed court, whose husband committed suicide in the Y. M. C. A. hotel Saturday, testified yesterday that they quarreled when she refused to give him insurance money received after the death of her first husband. She denied that he had any beads for leaving a note found beside his body, which said she had confessed being unfaithful to him.

Wedding Bells, to Ring in Three Cities, of Interest to Chicago

BY PANDORA.

From far away comes news of three sets of wedding bells that will chime before long, bells of London, of New York, and of St. Louis, whose sound will interest many residents of our more than breezy city.

Most distant as to space and closest as to time are those that will ring for Philipa Wendell, daughter of the late Jacob Wendell of New York and Mrs. Wendell of San Francisco, who is married to the Earl of Galloway, an event scheduled for the near future. The charming Miss Wendell is known to our city through her cousinship with Mrs. Barrett Wendell Jr. of Chicago. Miss Wendell's sister, Catherine, also has been married to the Earl of Galloway, and in 1922, she married Lord Portchester, as he was known before the death of his father, the Earl of Carnarvon, internationally famous for his discovery of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen.

Nearer in miles, but not in minutes, will be the marriage of Miss Helen Lowe Rice of New York, whose engagement to Haley Fiske Jr. of Berkeley, N. J., was announced last Saturday. Miss Rice is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Winfield Scott Linn, of 1111 North Dearborn parkway, who came to Chicago as a blushing bride less than a year ago. Mrs. Linn tells me that she is expecting a visit from the bride to be at the end of this month, and that although Miss Rice has not decided on the date for her wedding, it is to take place early in the autumn.

Last, and not at all least, is the announcement of the engagement of Virginia de Anguera, the daughter of the Fernando de Anguera, who exchanged the ravines of Highland Park for the ravines of St. Louis, some two years ago. Miss de Anguera, who is as lovely in a brilliant Spanish way as her name implies, has promised to marry the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reiner, son of St. Louis, and the marriage is planned for next June, as soon as young Reiner graduates from Yale.

Day's News in Society

A huge basket of flowers, gathered from local gardens, will be the first prize for the Winnie Winkle benefit for the afternoon for Grove House for Convalescents, and winner of the place honors will receive a basket trimmed in purple and lavender and containing fresh eggs. The tables are to be set out on the terrace of the residence in Highland Park.

Mrs. Hathaway Watson, president of the Grove House board and head of the committee who have worked so assiduously in the last few weeks, has sold 100 tickets, and her assistants have brought in the last few. A few of these who have taken tables are: Mrs. John W. Gery, Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, Mrs. Ruth Clark, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. Houghtaling, Jr., and Mrs. Archibald Bush.

Tables for the Lake Forest benefit for the same charity, for which Mrs. William H. Mitchell will open her residence this afternoon, have also sold well, according to the committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, and Mrs. Kent S. Clow. Both events promise to be as fashionable as they will be profitable for their joint beneficiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pentress of Winnie, have set Saturday afternoon, September 6, as the probable date for the debut of their daughter, Miss Mary Pentress. The affair will take place in the gardens of the Pentress residence, before Miss Pentress returns to Vassar where she plans to finish her college course. The debut of Miss Daisiana Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin K. Smith of Lake Forest, is to be an event of Saturday afternoon, September 13.

Mrs. Nathan S. Davis of 72 East Elm street, spent a day or two in New York last week en route to Newburyport, Mass., where she plans to spend a few weeks. Her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan S. Davis III, will go out the latter part of this month to visit Mrs. Davis' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Laird Bell of Winnetka, where they will remain during August, when Mr. and Mrs. Bell plan to spend about a month at the Huron Mountain club.

Mrs. Chester D. Crandall of 2410 Lakeside avenue is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Henry K. Chapin, at Harbor Point, Mich.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Widow with Eight Children.

"The widowed mother of eight children is unable to buy all the things her growing family needs. I wonder if some reader has a baby bed or high chair for her. The 13-month old baby has outgrown her cradle and now sleeps in the same bed with two older children. At table she sits on a soap box placed on a chair. As both the sleeping and seating arrangements are unsatisfactory this mother would be grateful for a bed or high chair."

"M. D. Y."

I hope this request will meet with response.

Clothes Their Need.

"Please try to help me with clothing for myself and children. I am a widow, and for myself need size 14 or 16. The children are girls, 11, 9, 7, and 5 years of age. I will appreciate anything."

Have you any discarded garments to pass on to a needy widow?

Who Wants a Puppy?

"I have a brown fox terrier female puppy, about eight weeks old. I would like to place in a good home. We live in an apartment and cannot keep it. It is playful and I think children would love it."

G. S. R.

Who has a home for this puppy?

Sports Coat of Linen for Resort or Country Club

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondent.)—If you can sew a few wild cats this summer without counting the cost, you will certainly include one of linen. For nothing is smarter, cooler, or more convenient. Models now available in this fabric are tempting to the most Puritanical purchaser. Straight in line, with or without a contrasting collar, the linen sports coat is usually sponsored some striking pattern. Often a strip of this same patterned linen is repeated as border, belt, or insert in the accompanying frock.

Today's sketch represents one of these irresistible models. The blocked pattern might be set off equally well if carried out in ecru against a black background, in white on yellow, or in two tones of green. The border, which also forms the clever little collar, should be of plain linen, like the foundation. This coat follows the general rule of separate sports coats in its three-quarter length. The design from which it is adapted is by Chanel.

But how wide is the range of choice for a sports wrap can be seen at one glance across a country club veranda on a summer afternoon. One sees a variety of slip-on or buttoned sweaters, the sleeveless blazer in wool mixture or silk, the sports cape, the knitted jacket, the separate jacket, the straight line coat in cretonne. Even a French imported coat—sleeveless, perhaps in eyelet embroidery might be numbered present.

It is a woman can afford but one sports wrap, she would be wise to select one of novelty fabric, tweed, wool mixture, or cashmere. For not only is the sportswoman's wardrobe limited, but these garments last, but they are suitable for many different occasions.

Adhesive Tape Replaces Corset to Mold Body

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, July 14.—Adhesive tape bound tightly over the body is a substitute for corsets to obtain a slim silhouette, which is the latest fashion. Even rubber corsets and girdles fail to give the suppleness necessary, so society women now mold themselves into fashionable form, using swatches of adhesive cotton and stretching adhesive tape tightly over it from the hips to the bust.

Fashion Notes.

Half the battle in hot weather is to wear clothing that looks cool.

A gayly colored band for the summer straw adds much to the attractiveness of the getup, but be careful it does not clash with shirt or tie.

If you are in the habit of carrying a cane, remember that a light stick looks better with your summer outfit than the heavier blunderbuss you have been used to swinging in the winter.

"Help Me Win Him Back"

Despair—and a touch of magic

"THE man I love has changed toward me. He pretends nothing is wrong, but I know what it is—my hair. It always fascinated him, because it was such a vivid, gleaming black, and so soft and full. Now it is lifeless, thin and dry. Nothing helps it. I must get its beauty back—quick. Can you tell me how?"

"Desperate."

TREAT your hair twice a week with a shampoo containing a touch of henna, blended with pure vegetable oil. The touch of henna works magic in bringing back the luster to dull hair. First is a secret every fashionable hairdresser knows. The vegetable oils, in combination with the touch of henna, will soon make your hair full and soft again. You will find just what you need in HENNAFOAM Shampoo. HENNAFOAM combinely a touch of henna, scientifically prepared with purified vegetable oil. While the oils in HENNAFOAM cleanse and invigorate the scalp, and the touch of henna makes every tress glisten with its own most brilliant radiance.

Canada Gives U. S. Red Cross $50,000 to Aid Vets

Ottawa, Canada, July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—In a bill providing for the disposal of $2,295,000, Canada's share of common today voted $50,000 to the American Red Cross. This is to be used for the assistance of former members of the Canadian expeditionary force now living in the United States. The residue of the profits is to be divided among Canadian provinces for the benefit of world war veterans.

There's a Rush for Sally's Invitations to White City Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Why do you like amusement parks?

Girls and boys! Thursday, July 24, is the day of my White City party! Is your letter on the way, do you want to be among those shooting the chutes, riding the rides, and having just all kinds of fun?

Some, I know, will win, because nobody could have a better time than they will have.

To help you decide I'm printing some letters that have already won invitations.

"Dear Miss Brown: Why do I like amusement parks? For the merry-go-round, the shoot the chutes, and the Thousand and One Troubles. When I am on the merry-go-round I feel as if I were a cowboy like Buffalo Bill chasing the Indians. When I am on the shoot the chutes I feel as if I were falling down from the top of a skyscraper like Harold Lloyd in 'Safety Last.' But best of all I like the Thousand and One Troubles, because there is a new surprise every second. From bumping yourself in the head on second to seeing yourself upside down another second."

Kathryn B. says:

"Dear Sally: All aboard! Ding-dong, ding-dong. White City, next stop. Although I have never been to any of your parties, the mention of White City brought out my trusty pen to write to you. Recreation! Who doesn't like to go whirling through the air at a speed that makes you look twice for your breath? Did I say 'like'? I mean 'love'."

Thousands Reported Killed in Insurrection in Brazil—Hundreds Crowd Traffic Courts

THREE THOUSAND DEAD IN BRAZILIAN CIVIL WAR. A view of the market place of Sao Paulo, seat of the insurrection, where fighting between the federal troops and those of the rebels has been of the most desperate character. Municipal buildings in the city have been turned into hospitals for the wounded, and this market place, ordinarily the seat of peaceful trade, is reported a deserted plaza, swept by death dealing missiles. BOB MAY ELBO
CAL INTO CO
IN THREE STATG. O. P. May Lose
Electoral Votes

Twenty-three electoral votes of Wisconsin, South and North Dakota may be lost to Calvin Coolidge counted for Robert M. La Follette cause the American people do not directly for president and vice president.

The peril to the Republican candidate became manifest yesterday when it was admitted by the La Follette managers that they were offering moves which might force President Coolidge to run as an "independent" in the three states, if indeed he got his name on the ballot. Tactics which the La Follette managers admit they are considering employed by the Roosevelt and Taft managers in 1912 when they were able to prevent Taft from becoming a contender for the electoral college.

How Scheme Is Possible. The intricacies of the American constitution make it possible for the La Follette managers to carry out plans that they are considering the ones which were employed by Progressives in 1912.

Under the constitution there is legally no candidates for President only candidates for presidential electors. The voters do not elect President and Vice President, they vote for electors and electors, under both the spirit and letter of the constitution, are free to vote for whom they choose.

The electors are selected in different ways in the different states. Practically in every state are chosen by the state party organizations before the election. La Follette partisans control the organizations in Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota.

North Dakota for Bob. In North Dakota they have already chosen the Republican candidates, the men whose names will appear in the Republican column on the ballot. Four of the five are supporters of La Follette.

In Wisconsin the Republican candidates for electors will be selected September by the candidates nominated in the Wisconsin state Republican primary. As La Follette is the Republican organization in state, the chances are that the majority of the candidates will be La Follette men and the Republican candidates for electors will also be La Follette men.

Coolidge as "Independent." If Coolidge wants electors favoring his candidacy named in either column on North Dakota the choice is that the only way he can get on the ballot is in an "independent" column.

If the "regular" Republican electors are chosen, their votes will go for La Follette, although he is an "independent" and not a Republican candidate. There is a legal way of compelling the Republican electors to vote for the Republican candidate, for legally there is no public candidate for President.

Nelson's Plans Secret. John M. Nelson, manager of the La Follette campaign, isn't ready to say what may happen in Wisconsin. He has represented the state in Congress for several years, was chairman of the "progressives" in the house, and was regarded as La Follette's spokesman there. So he knows the situation.

"It remains to be determined," said yesterday, "whether the La Follette electors or the Coolidge electors will have to run independent of each other."

But such a step as running La Follette, the Republican candidate, as an "independent" in Wisconsin is said to be an abnormal management of his campaign. Let the state go by default if necessary.

In South Dakota. In South Dakota a bitter rivalry between La Follette groups to have campaign there has confused the situation. Both factions, it is reported, are circulating petitions to elect independent La Follette. But the final decision whether it will be filed probably rests with La Follette headquarters.

In this state also, it is said, the regularly nominated electors are stanch La Follette supporters. If La Follette is elected by them as his nomination will be again called President Coolidge would consider independent candidates as a means of increasing the number of electors carrying the state. How answer is considered.
